Dear Police Officer Lissette Torres-Ocasio:

On November 13, 2018 we had an interaction at your post at the entrance of City Hall. I had recently learned of a family health matter and allowed that personal news to upset my professional composure. I have worked for 35 years in government service, part of which was as an attorney for the NYPD defending the rights of police officers. I have firsthand knowledge of how hard your job is and I did not make it easier. So it is especially important to me that I express my sincere apologies for my behavior and I regret that I did not offer this apology to you that night.

Sincerely,
